

Seen, Heard and Told

By The Editor

V

Our readers will have to struggle on through the darkness this week without much editorial advice. For a change we seem to have a good tonnage of ads, and we can stand it one week. However, I am chewing at the bits, hoping for space for self-expression next week.

Grenada had one fire Tuesday. Supposedly Grenada and TWO fires at the same time.

We predict that there never will be a full quota of mechanics here to build the camp. Skilled men are in such demand that they are not going to stay in a community where shade trees and flop houses offer about the last available shelter. The world is too big, and there are too many jobs.

I can imagine the embarrassment of many people when the health officer demands a Wasserman test, which he will shortly demand of every one who handles food in this community.

Issue, the retail peanut merchant, offers a good example to the rest of us. He is going to buy a ten-cent war stamp every week.

Our place was honored one day this week by a visit from Dr. Dodd and his son, Mr. Raymond.

Dear Pete Simpson: I have saved up about a dozen tobacco cans for you. Please call for them.

Dear Mr. Top, I ain't found but won't tell you who is fierer ole fren nor long steady ford, even pee ridge ain't got fer him this yere.

The President was not joking when he besought the people of America to search their places for scrap rubber. This is a very vital matter.

A feller sent Walter Koonce a ten-dollar check on a bill of lumber that Walter cut forty years ago. Slow, but sure.

John Lee Galtney swore after the last campaign, "never again," but he is eye-brow deep in the present one, pulling for the winner, Jim Eastland. Politics is a disease harder to cure than leprosy and is a worse disease.

Dear Allen: your splendid article, like my splendid (?) editorials, had to go by the board this week. I never did understand the message, "Write to Mr. Milton," attached to that Toronto newspaper.

It is too damn hot to get out subscription statements. We hope our subscribers will look at their expiration dates and pay up.

Cliff Bailey, Jr., is at home after completing a term at Northwestern in Chicago.

Wonders will never cease. Horn is allergic to something. Whothell ever heard of a printer or a poor man ever being allergic to anything.

Several of the twilight sisters would be placed in Class 4-B if they should be classified.

By the way, some if you folks have not paid your subscription. When the weather gets a little cooler, we are going thru our list and cut off a big bunch of delinquents. Please look at the date by your name. It tells the tale.

As soon as I pay off John George, I am going to buy a few bonds and stamps to help Uncle Sam.

One cautious former of Beat Two was approached with a view of selling him some war bonds, and he replied that he would buy some if he was sure Uncle Sam would win the war.

Dear Whyte, Jr. We have not received your birth certificate yet. Maybe you, like Andrew, was not born.

Dear Earl Staten: do not work my ex-secretary too hard, and do not let him work you either.

Seriously, we can see no real basis for thinking that the war will end this year, UNLESS we lose it. Our cause has had one reverse after another until quite recently. The trend of the war must change before we talk of victory in 1942. We have absolute faith in ultimate—but not quick—victory. We have many hard days and nights ahead.

Wonder if we can get the WPA to build an addition to the Hotel de Jail Grenada is going to need such an addition.

I used to worry about howthell I could get a certificate that I had been born, for such a certificate was necessary before I could get to be postmaster. Ford took that worry from my mind, happily. I just know I was born.

Dr. McPhail Withdraws From Congressional Race

To the People of the Fourth Congressional District:

I made plans to run for Congress long before we entered the war. At that time we were at peace, and I made those plans with a deep and burning desire to serve my country and my fellow countrymen. Today there is a different picture, there looms upon the horizon a menace that, if not curbed, will deprive us forever of our free, God-loving, democratic way of life.

Our boys are ones who will curb this menace and they will do it on the far-flung battlefields. They will spill their blood and lose their lives in the trenches and mud of foreign soil, but in the end we will win. Therefore, I am withdrawing from the race because I know that I am of more service on the battlefield than either of my opponents and they can serve you in Congress until I come back. But when the war is over, I will ask those boys whom I have served with over yonder and you to elect me to Congress. I am a candidate two years hence because the war will be over by that time.

I want to take this method of thanking my many friends all over the district who have been supporting and working for me. I could stay here and I know that on August 25th, we would be victorious. But I have prayed over this matter and feel that I am being directed by the Divine power.

I want to ask the good people of the fourth district to pray for me and for those boys while we are gone.

I hate to leave my good wife and two fine children, both little girls 9 and 11 years old. I do it with tears in my eyes and a heart that seems to be filling my chest. But I want them to have the same privilege of worshipping God under their own vine and fig tree that I have enjoyed for these thirty-four years. For this privilege for them and for you, I am willing to fight and I am willing to die.

I thank you,
GEO. T. McPHAIL, M. D.

Thanks Mothers Of Grenada

Mrs. L. D. Boone, Chairman of drive for Playground Funds, and Mrs. H. A. Alexander, Recreational Chairman for the Woman's Club, wish to thank Grenadians for their contributions to the fund and the purchases of membership cards to the several recreational centers in Grenada. To those who have donated used playground equipment, sincere thanks is also given.

To those who have not purchased a $1.00 membership card, or contributed either money or used equipment, the ladies will appreciate a donation.

Further recreational programs will be announced when Miss Mary Elizabeth McNeill, WPA recreational supervisor for Grenada County returns from Miss. State.

Former Grenadian Passes In Jackson

Funeral services were conducted for Mr. H. T. Pope, of Jackson, former citizen of Grenada, at the Ferguson Funeral Home on Sunday, June 14. The minister of the First Methodist Church officiating. Interment was held in Woodlawn Cemetery, Jackson.

Mr. Pope, with his family, lived in Grenada for several years. They resided in the Pressgrove home on Main St. now owned by Mrs. Baker. He was a shoe salesman for a St. Louis firm and had many friends throughout this territory. He had been confined to his bed for the past six months suffering with heart disease. He passed away Friday, June 12.

He is survived by his widow and four sons, Harry Lee and J. B. of Jackson, Charles of Camp Blanding, and Robert, who is stationed at Honolulu, Hawaii; two sisters also survive, Mrs. Curtis of Nashville and Miss Lucy Owen Pope, who resides in Georgia.

Mrs. Horace Spain of Grenada attended the last rites.

Guy Clanton Reported Missing

A laconic telegram from Washington to the effect that Guy Clanton, son of Mrs. Carrie Clanton of Grenada, was "missing," was received Monday morning by Mrs. Clanton.

While it is unknown where Guy was, it is believed that he was in Australia.

The sympathy of the community goes to this widowed mother, yet the hope persists that Guy will show up later. The term, "missing," does not necessarily mean that the man is dead.

Gore Springs H. D. Club Meets

On Thursday, June 11th the H. D. Club held its regular monthly meeting in the school auditorium with 14 members and two visitors present.

Meeting was called to order by singing, and roll called, answering with the favorite season of the year.

Then Mrs. Rogers Pleasants, of Grenada sang, "The Barefoot Trail." Then Rev. W. L. Robinson, of Grenada, read the first six verses of St. Matthew and chose for his subject, Religion in the Home, and brought to us a wonderful message which sank deep in the hearts of his club members.

Mrs. Neely, in her pleasant way then made some brief remarks. Mrs. Pleasants also sang "I Shall Not Pass Again This Way," which was very much enjoyed.

A contest was then given and Mrs. G. E. Chamberlain proved to be winner and received a war stamp. Then all joined in singing several numbers and meeting adjourned. It is always a great pleasure to have the Grenada people meet with the club.—Reporter.

GORE SPRINGS NEWS

Misses Frances Pittman and Grace Pryor graced this community Sunday with their presence.

Mrs. Alice Trussell returned home Saturday after a week's stay at her daughter's, Mrs. Jim O'Brien.

Mrs. Dora Sultan spent the week-end in Grenada as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Dock Tribble.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene McGahey spent Sunday afternoon in Calhoun City in the O. B. McGahey home.

Those who are on the sick list in this community are Robbie Gene Gill and Winford Worsham, both have undergone an operation in the Grenada Hospital. Their many friends wish for them a speedy recovery.

WINS NATIONAL ACCLAM

Mrs. Thomas H. Weir, of Grenada, headed the nation's list in sales for her cosmetic company, the Fay Wood Corp., of New York City. This was a national distinction and congratulations are in order for this accomplishment.

Five young ladies of Grenada are to visit relatives of Mary Jane Daigre at Brookhaven and Tallulah, La., the next two weeks. They will leave Sunday and are Misses Mary Jane Daigre, Julia Marie Guidry, June Williams, Clarine Jobe and Jean Gunter.

Mrs. E. F. Franklin Buried Saturday, June 13th

Funeral services were held Saturday, June 13 for Mrs. E. A. Franklin, who passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Leo Holland at three o'clock Friday afternoon, June 12. She had been an invalid for thirteen years, but a Christian and was so patient all along. She leaves three daughters, Mrs. Leo Holland, of this city, Mrs. Kenneth Tompkins, of West Memphis, and Mrs. T. L. Dennington, of Memphis, and five grandchildren, also three sisters, Mrs. B. S. Chapuis, of Grenada, Mrs. B. L. Harris, Morgan City, Miss., and Mrs. J. W. Barnes, of Jackson, Miss., two brothers, L. A. and Walter Tribble.

Funeral services were held by Rev. Glenn Wiley, assisted by Rev. E. R. Henderson, also Bro. O'Lander from Morgan City.—Contributed.

SUB-DEB COLUMN

By Carolyn Whitaker, Rogers Pleasants

Hello! Good people! Happy but hot vacation time has crept up (oh so slowly!) and your saboteurs, like lowly termites have started gnawing on all the affairs of the day (and night mostly). What have all the young societies been doing to provide sustenance for the gossip? Well—listen my children and you shall hear, of the nightly affairs of our comrade dear.

Ave high among the "highlights" of our great city is the estrangement between Lou Aven and her ex—(he simply does not want his name mentioned), perhaps the leading figures in the alienation might be D. Rule and Hickey—and then again, they might not. At any rate sweet Lou had a swell elegant party at the shack several weeks ago.

E. Keeton, an executive of the Grenada Triangular Club, has recently disclosed that he made a purchase from "the list" Rhett of a first-rate automobile. The purchase was made in early June and was handled through 141 York, Inc.

There's gonna be a great day at Glenwild! A bigger and better Rhett has returned to the fold for the summer—Bill, by name, a Junior at State, and one handsome brute, P. S. He's an interesting conversationalist.

Speaking of the Rhett family, the "Riot" appeared at the cinema Saturday night last with the immortal Margaret Green. This is his third appearance in two weeks. York has nothing to say for the press except a slight tilt of the nose and a subtle sniff. Rose is her silent partner.

While the cat's away, the rat will play. Keeton's been standing the strain remarkably though. Word has seeped through to your old saboteur to the effect that Jean Geeslin is having one gala time in sunny California.

Rosilyn Threadgill dashed over from Greenwood for a week-end with the Allens—which reminds us A. K. looked resplendent by D. Rule's warm side and Berta, equally so by Penn. Rose, after a ride with his Green gal Sunday evening, was being ably chauffeured by Threadgill.

No word has come through yet on Stanley and Gore. Rumor hath it that he was trying to squeeze himself in on York's date book but Patty rang in, and then Robinson and oh yes, Jesse Jacobs rang long distance from Memphis. One foreign correspondent reports that Leo Semmes had them all beat. Personally as yet we can confirm no reports.

Lotions of love, laughter and lime-light to Noble, in Texas; Ruth Morrow, in Alabama; Barrentine, in Arkansas; Thiesman, at the Pix; Robinson, in Greenwood; and all the boys in the service everywhere!

Jeanie Burt came down on No. 3 from Memphis Tuesday for a stay. She has set up headquarters at the Pleasants and has a great following already, and Pleasants and Rule were up to Memphis Tuesday and Wednesday to test her hospitality.

LaMonte Fulton, soda jerker and flunky at the Grenada Drug Store has captured and entrapped all the gals' hearts. No. - reports its either Kitsy Bailey or little Eleanor More power to him.

Quite a few of the younger set journeyed up to Coffeeville Tuesday night for a dinner party given by Sally Stone. Latest reports are that the food was swell and Libber Horton enjoyed dancing while Gore showed his power—ess at the ping pong table.

Miss Lucille Wilbourn, bookkeeper at Grenada Hospital is spending her vacation in New Orleans, and Jackson.

Dr. M. E. Dodd's Revival To End Sunday

The revival being conducted by the celebrated Dr. M. E. Dodd, of Shreveport, Louisiana, will close Sunday.

Those who have availed themselves of the privilege of hearing this noted preacher are most enthusiastic in their praise; those who have not yet been so privileged have Friday, Saturday and Sunday to hear these inspirational messages.

The spacious First Baptist Church, where Dr. Dodd is preaching has been the scene of a noteworthy religious revival not only among the people of that church but also among the people generally.

Dr. Dodd is not only a very learned man, but he has the ability, which he has exercised all over the nation and in many foreign nations to press forward his messages so that ordinary folks can understand. Like all great men, he is both very human and very humane. He appears to be at home wherever he is.

Mr. John Raymond leads the singing in the augmented choir.

Revival Begins Sunday At Church Of Christ

The public is cordially invited to attend a meeting at the Church of Christ, located on Adams and Jefferson streets, beginning on Sunday, June 21, and continues until July 3rd. The services will be at 10 a. m. and 8 p. m.

Mr. Jack Dunn, of Charleston, will preach and he will have as song leader, Mr. E. S. Holland, of Nashville, Tenn.

4th Congressional District Letter Carriers Meet

The Fourth Congressional District Rural Letter Carriers and their families held their annual Spring meeting at Pontotoc May 30, 1942. There was a fair attendance considering the rationing and other handicaps.

A joint meeting of the Carriers and Auxiliary members was held in the morning during which time a very interesting and instructive program was rendered by the Pontotoc County Association.

Following luncheon the carriers held their annual business session and the following officers were elected: C. J. Chandler, President; Houston; I. W. Cobb, Vice-President; Eupora; E. A. Caples, Secretary-Treasurer; Thaxton.

FRIENDSHIP HOME DEM. CLUB

At 2 o'clock Monday afternoon, June 1, the Friendship Home Demonstration club met with Mrs. Lucy Wilson.

Opening session singing, scripture by Mrs. S. P. Johns was inspiring, followed by prayer by Mrs. Burns Striker. Roll called and business.

Mrs. E. V. Abidze gave a synopsis of a talk made at district meeting of Auxiliary at Calhoun City, emphasizing patriotism. Mrs. Neely very capably demonstrated and discussed candle-light eggs.

The next meeting will be a picnic under the beautiful shade trees at the home of Mrs. Delma Pickle.

Mrs. Wilson served delicious refreshments.—Contributed.

PRATHER-EDISON

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Edison, of Holcomb, announce the marriage of their daughter, Thelma, to Mr. John Robert Prather, son of Mr. and Mrs. Riley Dunn. They were married Saturday afternoon by Rev. W. L. Robinson at the parsonage. Both are employed at Grenada Industries, Inc., and are now residing in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bull on Govan Street.

Earl Litten, of Camp Bowie, Texas, spent a seven day leave with his folks in Grenada, returning to camp last Friday.

Aint they sweet.

Calls On People To Collect All Scrap Rubber

Mr. and Mrs. America, who turned their homes topsy-turvy last year hunting out old aluminum articles began another collaborative scramble Monday in search of scrap rubber. How much they find during the 2-week collection requested by President Roosevelt may be a powerful argument for or against national gasoline rationing as a tire conservation measure.

If twenty of scrap rubber turns up, the estimates of probable collections vary all the way from 25,000 to 50,000 tons—nationwide gas rationing may be voted down, if very little is salvaged. Rationing is a virtual certainty.

Collecting stations will buy proffered rubber at a penny a pound. Oil companies serving the stations will collect the piles and move them to central collection points for sale to the R. F. Rubber Reserve Co. at $25 a short ton.

All profit from the handling will go to designated charities, such as the Army and Navy Relief fund and the Red cross.

War Production Board salvage officials emphasized that no bit of rubber would be too small, too worn or too old to contribute. From rubber bands and pencil erasers to raincoats, feeding rines, clothes, suspenders, run-down rubber heels.

One shaver said WPH pointed out, contains enough rubber for 10 paratrooper parachutes for the armed forces.

Along the lines of what to look for and where to find it, here's a list of possibilities:

Kitchen—Aprons, rubber covered dish drawers, drain board mats, faucet sprays, sink stoppers, jar rings.

Bathroom—Soap dishes, drain plugs, sponges, unused shower sprays, hot water bottles, syringes, ice bags, rubber bulbs from medicine droppers.

Closets—Gloves, rubber, tennis shoes, tennis balls, raincoats.

Nursery—Baby pants, crib pads, bibs, nipples, pacifiers, toys.

Bedroom—Rubber hair curlers, girdles, comb, dress shields, garters, suspenders, elastic tape.

Allison Graduates And Is Commissioned

Lawrence Allison, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lacy Allison, graduated on May 25, at Miss. State in Civil Engineering and received a second lieutenant commission in Coast Artillery, Anti-Aircraft. He left Tuesday of this week to report for duty at Camp Pendleton, Portsmouth, Va.

Baptists To Cooperate In Dist BTU Convention

The Baptist churches in this county are called on to cooperate fully in the district meeting being held at Water Valley, July 3. This is the Annual meeting of the District Baptist Training Union Convention. The counties included in the district are Carroll, Grenada, Leflore, Montgomery, Tallahatchie and Yalobusha.

State Secretary Aubrey J. Wilds, has planned for the meeting to open at 10 a. m. and close with a night session. The program will be presided over by President Meritt B. Cofer, of Water Valley. The host church will serve lunch and supper to those attending the convention.

Annie L. Stepp,
District Secretary.

Letter To The Editor

Editor, Grenada County Weekly, Grenada, Mississippi.

Dear Mr. Editor:

I am interested in your "technique" in being able to "spot" the Ladies of the Evening. An exposition of such through the columns of your valued paper, I am sure would be appreciated by a number of your timid and inexperienced male readers.

Submitted by a timid and inexperienced male.

We must remember that the Japs almost wrecked Pearl Harbor, drove us out of the Philippines, bombed Dutch Harbor, and are threatening our forces in Australia. They drove the British from Hong Kong, Singapore and Burma and are threatening India. They took every possession of the Dutch in the Pacific. They have almost isolated one of our greatest allies, China. Keeping in mind that these things have been done in six months, it is foolish optimism to believe that we can defeat them and retake these lost possessions, this year. It is all right to be optimistic about the ULTIMATE result, but it is foolish to expect a quick or an easy victory.

There'll Be Another Day

Grenada people should remember that the treatment they accord the "strangers within our gates"—the workmen, contractors and engineers who are building Camp McCain—will either give Grenada a nationwide reputation for good, or a nationwide reputation not so good. People from all over the nation are working here or will, at one time or another work here. If we treat them right, Grenada will earn a good reputation; if we treat them badly and seek to exploit them on rents and everything else they have to use, Grenada will earn a bad reputation.

Whatever the character of the "name" we get, this "name" will live for more than one generation. Grenada today has a chance to store up treasures for itself, treasures that will be available for years to come. If, however, we gouge the employees every chance we get, the name, Grenada, will become an anathema to thousands of people widely dispersed over the nation.

All of us hope that Grenada will be here as a prosperous, up and coming community, when the war is over; and that the people who are working here will always speak a good word for Grenada. But, unless we change our ways, the contrary will be true. We will have ten thousand people who, whenever Grenada is mentioned, will say "censored!"

As a long time proposition, it will pay Grenada people to forego the opportunity for receiving quick, easy money from people who have no other place to stay. It would be far better to require reasonable rents, and to refrain from gouging NOW, to the end that Grenada will have a good "name" throughout the nation.

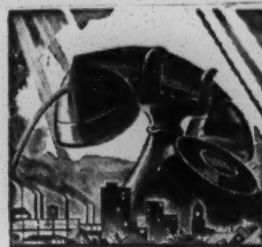

Shall we apply the Golden Rule, "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you," or the Guttering Rule, "Do 'em while the doing is good?"

Premature Counting Of Chickens

We are getting sort of sick of hearing Wallace and others talking of the post-war problems.

It seems to be a case of counting the chickens before they are hatched.

It seems to us that the immediate problem is to win the war which, optimists to the contrary, we are now losing.

SERVING Vital WAR NEEDS

A great public servant—your telephone—is successfully carrying its added responsibilities as it performs its many vital wartime duties.

Few who daily use the telephone on a peacetime basis realize its extreme importance in time of war.

Today, in the area served by Southern Bell, war activities are moving at a tempo never before equalled. Throughout these nine Southeastern States, many new military and naval training camps, new and enlarged Navy and Marine shipyards, Air Force training and flying fields, and the huge plants employed in war production, are teeming with all-out activity. All rely on the dependability and efficiency of the telephone, as national and civilian agencies relay the urgent messages of a Nation at war.

The telephone is the means of activating quick control of vast numbers of men and units of equipment, as well as for instantaneous communication on a war front stretching around the world.

Thus it is that the telephone, long recognized as a great American convenience, is now vital to the successful conduct of the war, and Southern Bell is proudly doing its part in meeting our Government's every telephone communication need.

Ford Enters Race For Re-election

To the People of the Fourth Congressional District:

In announcing my candidacy for re-election to Congress, I do so mindful of the serious situation which confronts each and every one of us. As you know, our country is in the midst of a struggle for its very existence. Practically the entire world is heavily involved. Before the final battle is fought we will all be called upon to make even greater sacrifices than have been made heretofore.

I have followed the course of events very closely and as my record bears out, I have at all times supported the necessary legislation to combat the enemy. Through our combined efforts Labor and Capital have been brought together, strikes are no longer prevalent in plants involving National Defense Contracts and our war production is far ahead of schedule. Despite our temporary setbacks victory is bound to be ours in the end.

By an overwhelming vote the Democratic members of Congress have honored me by election to membership on the Ways and Means Committee. This is the most powerful and far-reaching committee in the National House of Representatives. I am the only member of Congress from your District and the fourth member from the entire state of Mississippi who has achieved this distinction. I greatly appreciate the confidence my colleagues have placed in me and I know that you likewise do, since it is not only an honor to me but is also an honor to you whom I represent. By reason of this committee membership and the experience I have gained in Congress, I am in a position to better serve you during this dark and turbulent period.

Since my duties in Washington may prevent an early return to the District, I must of necessity leave my campaign in the hands of my friends. I therefore earnestly solicit your vote and support and trust that you will take charge and carry on in my absence. I promise you a continuation of my faithful service and pledge every effort to the successful and speedy termination of this war.—Political Advertisement.

Soldiers of Production

America's "soldiers of production," men and women working in the plants of American industry, have their uniforms, too. Some uniforms worn by G-E workers on vital production jobs are shown below.

1. Not a gas mask, but a special nose mask to guard his breathing, is worn by this spray painter at his job in one of the General Electric plants.

2. Like a man from Mars, the "cold room" research man is a strange sight as he tests airplane instruments for high-altitude performance in a G-E laboratory.

3. Frankenstein? No, just another G-E worker. His job is sandblasting big turbine castings for Uncle Sam's ships at one of the General Electric plants.

4. The helmet he wears is to protect him from light! The rays from a welder's arc could cause blindness if he did not wear this strange headgear.

General Electric believes that its first duty as a good citizen is to be a good soldier.

APPEAL FOR RUBBER

(Mrs. W. W. W.)
When Uncle Sam asks the citizens of America to give or sell the government all the scrap rubber they have, he means YOU, not just your next door neighbor.
This morning, the radio announcer, emphasizing that rubber mats, such as lay by many door steps, be sold or given for defense purposes. They are asking for the soles of tennis shoes, worn out water hose, old bathing caps, jar rings or any waste rubber, old tires and inner tubes and many mats used as shock absorbers.
Please consider the need and the absolute seriousness of this appeal for rubber. Our President has asked that you, Mr. Average Citizen, give or sell this scrap rubber now, and most week! You can get 1 cent a pound for it. Please take or send your rubber to your nearest filling station today. Our armed forces on land and sea and in the air must have millions of tons of rubber to win the war.

JIM EASTLAND

IN THE UNITED STATES

SENATE

"In these perilous times our people not only need but they are demanding leadership. They want action instead of political maneuvering and dilly-dollifying in our senate."—JIM EASTLAND.

This challenging statement by Jim Eastland is typical of his beliefs and shows the reason WHY Mississippi needs him in the United States Senate. Appointed for three months, JIM began FIGHTING FOR THE SOUTH three weeks after he arrived in Washington. He didn't sit back on out-of-date political precedent—he immediately became the "Champion of the Farmer and of the South."

While I have quit fooling with politics, I do not consider the publication of the record that Mr. Collins (who claims to be such a great military genius) himself has made in Congress with special reference to his record on military affairs, is "fooling with politics." Inasmuch as I served 23 months as private, corporal, sergeant, battalion sergeant major and regimental sergeant major in World War No. 1, and inasmuch as I have a son (who was born while I was in France) who volunteered his services 18 months ago, I feel that I have a peculiar right to air out Mr. Collins' military record.

Here Mr. Top, I see where over one of our munny puttin his name in this an other papers. Mr. abby nathy is goin 2 sh him bak 2 arkansaw.

Let's have a heart to heart talk about this war situation. Surely this is one subject which is close to the minds of all our citizens.

The United States may lose this war. This is something that we do not like to hear. Neither do we like to see it in print. Nevertheless America may lose this war.

America can win this war if America will. But the war will not be won without an effort, and an effort is more than just holding down a defense job.

Victory is one fruit that does not grow on trees and which does not fall to the ground when ripe.

Victory in this war is a fruit that can be acquired by scaling the highest mountain peaks, swimming the deepest rivers, crossing the hottest deserts, overcoming the strongest obstacles.

Such obstacles can be overcome only when every citizen does the job assigned to him by his government, and the assignment now being made is in the field of defense savings.

We must rally to the cause of defense savings. The task of the victory scheme. Neglect this and we disrupt the machinery of victory.

When individuals fail to rally to this cause they rally to the cause of Adolf Hitler.

The emptiest thing in the world is a wordy conversation not backed by deeds.

All of this is a build up for the cause of a successful defense campaign in Grenada and Grenada county.

There are some people who are really "putting out" in this campaign. The job is to find more of them.

Our prediction is that the campaign will be successful. Our warning is that we not think that victory can be obtained without the effort.

How humiliating it would be for America to sign a peace treaty in the White House.

How thoroughly possible this is when people rally not to the colors.

But our people will rally. They will respond even though they must be blasted at time into definite action.

The defense savings campaign started on June 16th. You will be asked to pledge ten percent of your income.

What is your answer?

Before answering meditate upon another question: "Who do you want to win in this war?"

Do you think we can win without the full support of all of our people?

Our testing time is now—and we believe our people will meet the test.

In Europe the Germans are trying to overpower the Russians. In Asia Japan is seeking to knock China out of the war. This is a challenge to Americans.

This war is not won by a long shot yet there are hundreds of thousands of Americans who feel that bombing of Tokyo was the signal of a defeated Axis.

Joe Enderlin, not to be outdone, came in a month ahead of time and renewed his subscription. Some come in on time, some come in behind time, while some never come.

Slap the Japs by Saving the Scrap. Well, I have John George off my hip for another year.

Here Mr. Top, it looks like Mr. Paul Jonsing and Mr. Bill bow has fell out. accordin 2 poetry thets a good sine fer bones min.

GRENADA, GRENADA COUNTY, MISS. THURSDAY, JUNE 18, 1942

NUMBER FORTY SEVEN

DEAR ROSS COLLINS, M. C. . .

(Being an open letter to Hon. Ross Collins, M. C., candidate for the U. S. Senate, by W. W. Whitaker, Editor of The Grenada County Weekly.)

I should state that I was among the many voters of Mississippi who had been led to believe that you were a great exponent of preparedness, and, before I had the benefit of this look into your record, I had written favorably of your efforts to mechanize the army.

Perhaps it would be well to state that I have a very personal interest in the United States Army, as my son is a volunteer in the army; and that this son, W. W. W. Jr., was born while I was in France during World War No. 1, where I was a Regimental Sergeant Major in the 140th U. S. F. A.

You claim to be one of the greatest military experts of our country. I had heard that this claim was unfounded and that General Marshall had said that you were a great obstructionist; therefore I have the benefit of the results of an investigation of your record, as contained in the Congressional Record. "Any man can be a hero in his own diary."

In an examination of your military record the first striking thing is to learn you have not been a member of the Military Affairs Committee of the House of Representatives, and had nothing to do with the formulation of the basic plans of our national defense, but that you were Chairman of a sub-committee of the Appropriations Committee of the House of Representatives, which controlled the amount of money to be appropriated to the Army. In that capacity you steadfastly and persistently fought Army appropriations, and if your will had prevailed, one can easily believe that the German and Japanese armies could have invaded this country and by now have met at some point near Kansas City.

I find that in 1937 you voted to discharge the Committee from consideration of the Ludlow Constitutional Amendment, which was equivalent to an Aye vote for this amendment, which would have amended the Constitution so that this nation could not have declared war without first holding a national referendum. This would have taken the foreign policy away from the President and the State Department and placed it subject to the fatal delay of a national election. On this day President Roosevelt sent a message to the House of Representatives and pleaded with them that the Constitutional Amendment be defeated and stated that this amendment would jeopardize our entire national policy. And yet, you voted for this Constitutional Amendment. (75th Congress, C. R. Page 282.)

I find that in 1938 you introduced an amendment to the Constitution of the United States to prevent the United States from lending money or aid to a nation engaged in war. If this amendment had been adopted, lend lease aid to Britain, Russia and China would have been impossible and by this time Germany and Japan probably would be masters of the world. (75th Congress, C. R. Page 30.)

In 1938 the President of the United States asked for an expansion of the United States Navy to meet the growing menace of the expanding Navy of Japan, who denounced the Naval Pact of 1922. You voted against the expansion of our Navy. (75th Congress, C. R. Page 376.)

In a debate concerned with the use and export of helium gas, upon which the United States has a natural monopoly, you said relative to the "lighter than air" airships which are now needed to protect our sea lanes from submarines, "Let somebody develop it who wants it. We are not going to do it in this country." (75th Congress, C. R. Page 964.)

On February 23, 1939, after Japan had denounced the Naval agreement and had made her alliance with Hitler and was fortifying and preparing to attack the United States, the President asked for the fortification of the Island of Guam. The Japanese government protested that such action upon America's part would be considered a hostile act by Japan. You voted against the fortification of Guam, acceded to the wishes of Japan, and now our flag has been swept from the Western Pacific, the Japanese flag substituted and now Emperor Hirohito of Japan is fortifying this island. (76th Congress, C. R. Page 184.)

In 1939 our Navy advised the House of Representatives that it had no chart of a large part of the Alaskan waters, and the debate revealed that the Japanese had such a chart. The Navy requested appropriation to the Coast Guard to enable the Coast Guard to prepare the chart for the use of the American Navy so that in the event our Navy was called upon to engage the Japanese Navy in these waters they might do so on even terms. You voted against this appropriation to furnish this chart to the United States Navy. (76th Congress, C. R. Page 6100.)

On May 24, 1937, you voted against the establishment of certain bases and the fortification of Alaska. (76th Congress, C. R. Page 666.)

On June 22, 1938, nine months after Munich and sixty days before Germany's march into Poland the Army asked for an additional 2,200 airplanes. You introduced an amendment from the floor after your Committee had overridden your desires in the Committee room, to reduce the appropriation to a sum only sufficient for 1,007 planes, and in your speech you said that you would prove that America had more airplanes than any nation in the world except Great Britain; and that this request for additional planes was inspired by propaganda of aircraft manufacturers, and you said that in 1939 we were already building 673 planes; in 1940 we would build 285; in 1941, 286; and that in 1942 we would build 77 planes.

And in this same connection you said it was fantastic to assume that any nation would send an airplane carrier within five hundred miles of the American coast, and then you said, "Let no one be deceived about the military preparations of this country." (76th Congress, C. R. Page 222.)

Now, in fact, instead of building 77 planes in 1942, we are building 77,000.

After Germany had overrun Europe to form their alliance with Italy and Japan, the President of the United States appeared before Congress and asked passage of the Selective Service Act to mobilize the manpower of America. You made a speech against the passage of the Selective Service Act and you said, "I regret I cannot go with them on this bill." (76th Congress, C. R. P. 11,572.)

In 1941, after the one year limit for the draftees had expired and we were on the verge of the war in which we are now engaged, the American people demanded that the Selective Service Act be extended. Upon this measure of tremendous importance you voted neither Aye nor Nay, and you were not paired. The Selective Service Act was extended by a margin of only one vote, and the American Army was saved from destruction. (77th Congress, C. R. P. 7727.)

In 1932 General MacArthur, Chief of Staff appeared before your Committee and asked for certain equipment to mechanize the United States Army for years 1933-34. In 1933, he asked for $2,000,000 for this purpose. The Budget Committee approved $1,200,000. Your committee cut this request to $230,000. For the year 1934 $2,700,000 was asked for this purpose. The Budget Committee approved $671,000. Your committee cut this item to $225,000. In 1932 General MacArthur asked for $85,373 for experimental motor vehicles for the Army. The Budget approved $85,373. You eliminated this fund entirely. For 1933, the sum of $75,428 was asked for experimental vehicles. The Budget Committee approved $75,428. You eliminated this item entirely. (72nd Congress, C. R. Page 231.)

In 1933 the Secretary of War asked for the purchase of a number of trucks for Army duty. You introduced an amendment to prohibit any money in the Army Appropriations Bill from being used to purchase any trucks costing more than $750. The Secretary of War wrote a letter to Congress, in which he said of your amendment, "unwarranted and unjustifiable restriction" limits the motorization of the Army to "three-quarter ton Ford and Chevrolet types." He said the Army needed no trucks of this type; however, you insisted on your amendment and your wishes in the House of Representatives prevailed. (72nd Congress, C. R. Page 2310.)

On the bill to enlarge the locks of the Panama Canal you did not deem this measure of sufficient importance to cast your vote. (71st Congress, C. R. Page 10,731.)

On January 18, 1933, you condemned as "wild and fantastic" the statement of General Douglas MacArthur that the American Army was in 18th place among the armies of the world and you tried to reduce the personnel of the officers of the Army and to force retirement of officers in compliance with your scheme of national defense. (77th Congress, C. R. Page 2052.)

On May 10, 1932, an editorial was inserted in the Congressional Record from one of the leading New York papers, which editorial is as follows: "DESTROYING THE ARMY IS FALSE ECONOMY. As reported to the House, the War Department appropriation bill for the fiscal year 1933 is what might have been expected from Congressman Collins, of Mississippi, with his record of fanatical pacifism."

"It is in the name of economy now that Chairman Collins proposes the following sapping expedition against what is left of the Army of the United States: "Abolition of the citizens military training camps. "Abolition of all annual training for the Original Reserves.

"Abolition of the Reserve Officers' Training Corps camp.

"Abolition of military training as given in the land-grant colleges designated for that purpose by Abraham Lincoln.

"Trasctic reduction in the flying pay of the Army Air Corps.

"Robbing what is left of the Cavalry of 500 horses without equipping that or any other branch with adequate motorized equipment.

In the name of common sense and American patriotism, the House should return this measure to Committee for revision, or discharge the Committee from its consideration and rewrite the bill in Committee of the Whole. "This is no emergency measure to save the Nation money. It is the same kind of work-barrat pacifist legislation that Congressman Collins advocated last year.

A year ago this mis-Representative of Mississippi attacked not only the citizens military training camps, but also the Reserve Officers' Training Corps and the Infantry, Cavalry and Field Artillery arms as dangerous and useless agencies of defense. "Then, Mr. Collins attempted to justify his pacifist program upon the ground that our obligations under the Kellogg pact committed us to such a course.

Now, with the Japanese Army in complete possession of Manchuria, with Russia mobilizing troops along the Asiatic frontier, and Europe refusing to disarm, Mr. Collins attempts to justify his sapping expedition against our little Army by changing his catchword to "economy."

The Collins type of legislator and the Collins type of legislation derides the Congress and menaces the Nation."

This editorial is borne out in toto of your record. I must confess that I believe every word of it.

General Douglas MacArthur is quoted in the book "MacArthur the Magnificent" by Bob Considine as follows: "I have humiliated myself. I have humiliated the boys of some Zenlemen to get funds for the motorization and mechanization of the Army."

This book quotes as follows: "There was one more thing to be done, however, before the armed forces could be put on a budget. The Budget Committee, said, 'General, this Budget includes $945,491 for the upkeep of the Philippine Scouts. Has any new device started to reduce that figure by stopping recruits and first enlistments?' MacArthur answered that any new device had been started and none was more tempted to decimate the force his father had instituted—the force whose desperate fury was one day destined to thrill the entire world.

Since Pearl Harbor, since the fall of unfortified Guam, and since the heroism of Major Devereaux, and his 500 marines in defending to death and capturing unfortified Wake Island, I am led to the unalterable conclusion that your record in Congress on military affairs has been hopelessly wrong and that your position as Chairman of the sub-committee which controlled military appropriations has been detrimental rather than beneficial to the defense and the welfare of this nation.

Treat Constipation This Gentler Way!

Many folks say that almost as bad as constipation are harsh cathartics and purges. That's because many medicinal laxatives work this way: they either prod the intestines into action or draw moisture into them from other parts of the body.

Now comes news of a gentler and pleasanter way of treating constipation, for the millions of people with normal intestines whose trouble is due to lack of "bulk" in the diet. This way is by eating KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN, a crisp, delicious cereal, and drinking plenty of water. ALL-BRAN, unlike many medicinal laxatives, acts principally on the contents of the colon and helps you to have easy, normal elimination. ALL-BRAN is made by Kellogg's in Battle Creek. If your condition is not helped by this simple treatment, better see your doctor.

The Drifter

By HELEN V. KERR
McClure Syndicate—WNU Features.

"GEESSE are all heading south. Time you went out, Pete, and saw the sights," Joe Green advised with a supercilious grin.

Pete thought of his friends, scattered up and down the river. They liked him, with his kind eyes and his quiet ways, and Pete needed to be liked. He let his glance stray around the walls of his neat little log cabin before answering amiably. "No. It's better here."

"I got a swell new girl waiting for me," Joe boasted with malicious satisfaction, knowing that a girl Pete couldn't forget was the cause of his flight from civilization.

Joe enjoyed talking to Pete. Such a timid, puny fellow—a drifter who had settled up here in the wilderness to hide his failure in the outside world. Joe felt as important lordling it over him as when, resplendent in city clothes, he talked some poor, dreaming widow into trusting him with her savings. He was a good talker, was Joe—"Beautiful Joe," people called him. With a few the name was a smiling tribute, for he was handsome in a dark, masculine way, but there were many on whose lips it was a sneer, or worse. Tonight he was heading down river on his way outside for the winter, enough glittering ore samples in his mackinaw pocket to lure another summer's comfort for him from the too-believing. Pete had shared his supper with him, not out of friendship, but because it is the way of the north country.

"She's mighty pretty, according to her picture," Joe continued on a favorite theme. "Shy, I expect, but I can melt 'em," he said with a coarse laugh. "Funny how I come to get acquainted. Picked up a ring in Vancouver one day, a queer Indian thing."

He drew the silver band from his pocket, and, handing it to Pete, went on with his story. "Out of curiosity I put an ad in all the coast papers, and a girl in San Francisco answered it, saying she'd given the ring to someone who'd proved unworthy, and could she please have it back. Just for fun I wrote her I was having it mended, so I couldn't send it yet and told her how I sympathized with her, and she fell for it hard. Came right back with a long letter, thanking me, and telling how she knew the person—Harry was his name; you can see it inside the ring, 'to Harry with my love'—she knew Harry would lose it because the Indian who made it said no one who was unworthy could keep it. We kept on writing. She was lonely, I guess. This fellow must have broken her heart, pretty near. But she's coming to Vancouver to meet me, just the same."

"Not your usual sort, is she, Joe?" Pete commented in a slow drawl as he reached for his rifle from the wall and set to cleaning it.

Joe leered at his host. "They're all my sort, if I like 'em. Anyway, she can learn. I sent her my picture—told her I was working on my mine. Gee, I laughed at the things she wrote about that." He pulled out a letter and read, "You look so splendid and clean, using your fine strength to get riches out of the earth, not out of other folk as most of us do—What she don't know, won't hurt her, eh? Now, this fellow she was so crazy about, he made the mistake of letting her know too much. He couldn't make enough money to get married on, so he started doing a little thieving from the firm he was bookkeeper for. But she got suspicious when he began throwing money around freer than usual, and then she asked him about it and the poor sap went and confessed!"

Joe had known he was roiling Pete with his scornful recital of Harry's incompetence, but he had failed to observe how his host kept nervously fingering the hammer of his rifle, or to catch the bitterness in Pete's mild voice as he asked, "Think she'll like your occupation?"

"Huh! Before she gets wise to me, I'll be through with her," declared Joe.

A less self-satisfied man must have recognized the intensity behind Pete's next question. "Going to break her heart all over again, are you?"

"Aw, she'll get over it. They all do."

"She wouldn't," said Pete with quiet emphasis. Then he leaned forward and uttered a solemn pronouncement. "Joe, you're rotten clean through. With the help of your good looks you've spent your whole life hurting people who couldn't stand it, but I'll be damned if you're going to hurt that girl!"

Before Joe could do more than gasp in astonishment Pete had lifted his rifle to his shoulder and with steady aim shot him through the heart. Then he put down his gun, took the girl's letter from his victim's hand, and scribbled a note on the back to Corporal Bryce of the Mounted Police. It read:

"Jim Bryce—I killed Beautiful Joe. You'll be doing this lady a favor if you'll write and tell her Joe Green was killed in an explosion at his mine, and send her this ring. But don't say anything about me. She never heard of me. Thanks."

"Pete."

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

THE TASK COMMITTED TO THE DISCIPLES

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 28:16-20; Mark 16:14-20; Luke 24:48-53.
GOLDEN TEXT—Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature.—Mark 16:15.

Witnesses of the resurrection—that privilege of the disciples carried with it the responsibility of declaring the good news of completed redemption to all the nations of the earth. In doing so they were destined to meet opposition and unbelief, to feel weariness and to know discouragement. So the Lord, before leaving this world for His present ministry at the Father's right hand (Mark 16:19; Heb. 7:25), prepared them by giving them a divine commission, which they accepted and acted upon with the assurance of His power and blessing. The lesson is summarized in the words, "Go ye" (Matt. 28:19); "They went forth" (Mark 16:20); "And He . . . blessed them" (Luke 24:50).

I. "Go Ye" (Matt. 28:16-20).

God's plans are never small plans. World evangelization, nothing less, was the goal He had in mind, and to which Christ commissioned this little group of humble folk who were His disciples. It was not only a great commission, but a daring one.

Back of such marching orders there must be authority and power—and Christ had them (v. 18)—all power and all authority. No need to measure or compare, for His is the ultimate and complete authority. This is the One who said, "Come unto me"; then, "Follow me, and I will make you fishers of men," and who now says, "Go." If we heed one command, should we not absolutely obey the others?

The message is His message, the gospel (Mark 16:15). It is the only message! The witnesses of Christ are not called to educate and civilize the heathen without winning them to Christ. To do so is only to prepare stronger and more skillful enemies of all that we count holy.

But a great program means nothing if it is not carried out; a great commission is only words unless it is accepted and obeyed. We read of the disciples that—

II. "They Went Forth" (Mark 16:14-20).

The call and command are given in this passage. The power is made clear and somewhat in detail, but the significant thing is that they actually went forth to preach.

The response of these early Christians was immediate and enthusiastic. Would that such a spirit had characterized the church through all the generations since then, for if it had, the commission would long since have been carried out. Dr. R. A. Torrey has estimated that if everyone in a church of 2,000 were to win one soul a year, and each convert win one soul each year, the world would be evangelized in less than 35 years.

But while on the whole the church has failed, there have been valiant souls all down through its history who have given themselves to the business of soul-winning. With them, as with these of the first century, the secret is ever "The Lord working with them." We read that as He was leaving this earth and His disciples, He lifted up His hands—

III. "And He . . . Blessed Them" (Luke 24:49-53).

God has always honored those who in faith have obeyed His command. The whole history of missionary endeavor bears eloquent testimony to that fact.

Sometimes we marvel at the success of a great movement, such as that founded by John Wesley. The answer is that God found a man, or a little group of men or women, willing to take Him at His word and step out in earnest purpose to obey Him. "For forty years John Wesley carried on his mission of canvassing for Christ as a parliamentary candidate canvasses for votes in his constituency in the strenuous three weeks before an election" (Arnold's Commentary). Little wonder that with the blessing of Christ upon his work brings joy to many even to this day.

Note that the disciples who had been made sad and despondent by their parting with Christ at Calvary now went away in joy. The joy of the Lord is the strength of the Christian worker. It gives him abundant grace and power in the hour of need and makes him a fruitful servant.

A Warm Soul

I saw once lying side by side in a great workshop, two heads made of metal. The one was perfect; all the features of a noble, manly face came out clear and distinct in their lines of strength and beauty; in the other, scarcely a single feature could be recognized; it was all marred and spoiled. "The metal had been let grow a little too cool, sir," said the man who was showing it to me. I could not help thinking how true that was of many a form more precious than metal.—Canon Teignmouth Shore.

The War isn't fought in Fox Holes alone

IT'S fought in the mind. It's fought with a will to win. It's fought with a belief in a cause worth dying for.

That will, that belief, is known as morale.

Our enemies have had years of indoctrination. They have been conditioned to believe themselves part of a "new order" . . . to which the contribution of their lives is small but all-important. They believe themselves cogs in a vast machine.

Our soldiers do not fight that way—because they do not live that way. Theirs is the belief in the sanctity of the individual.

To maintain their morale in the American way, the USO has devoted all its time and energy since practically the beginning of conscription.

It has done this by staffing and maintaining club houses near all training camps and in our outlying possessions from Alaska to the Caribbean.

Today its work is far greater than ever, its need for funds to carry on more than doubled.

The USO needs your help more than ever before!

High government and military officials—including General MacArthur—have praised the work done by the USO and recognized its importance in the war effort.

But it needs recognition from you—recognition in the way of dollars and cents. For the six national agencies which comprise the USO are publicly supported.

Now above all times, to make your dollars count, give to the USO!

Send your contribution to your local USO Committee or to National Headquarters, USO, Empire State Building, New York, N. Y.

Our Object Now

Our object now, as then, is to vindicate the principles of peace and justice in the life of the world as against selfish and autocratic power, and to set up among the peoples of the world such a concert of purposes and of action as will henceforth insure the observance of those principles.—Woodrow Wilson.

Sentinels of Health
Don't Neglect Them!

Nature designed the kidneys to do a marvelous job. Their task is to keep the flowing blood stream free of all traces of toxic impurities. The act of living—it's daily—is constantly producing waste matter the kidneys must remove from the blood if good health is to endure. When the kidneys fail to function as Nature intended, there is retention of waste that may cause body-wide distress. One may suffer nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feel tired, nervous, all worn out.
Frequent, scanty or burning passages are sometimes further evidence of kidney or bladder disturbance.
The recognized and proper treatment is a diuretic medicine to help the kidneys get rid of excess fluid and waste.

Summer 'Date' Dresses Made of Eyelet Batiste, Waffle Pique brodered batiste of which it is fashioned is the sort you'll treasure the whole summer through. This frock is cut along lines that give a long-torso effect. It has a flattering square neck and dainty wee ruffles.

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

THE stage of fashion is all set for a program that will dramatize beguiling "sweet simplicity" in party and other "date" dresses fashioned of very lovely fine lingerie cottons.

In the new summer collections you will see the endearing charm of sheer organdy revived in all its former glory, the soft grace of supple cotton voiles, the quaintness of flower-sprigged dimity, the prettiness of cotton laces. You will see dotted nets and swisses and the puritan simplicity of immaculate waffle pique.

Wise choices are being made now by young party-goers and by brides-to-be and their attendants. They are selecting dresses which will double as evening gowns. To them the dress to the right in the above picture will make an instantaneous appeal. It is of white waffle pique (an outstanding fabric this summer) trimmed with Irish crochet. The youthful formality of this gown is a delight to the eye with its floor-length skirt and its demurely buttoned bodice with the very new low neckline. The crochet lace trim on the girlish pique sash is very effective. Note, too, the cotton thread crocheted gloves. That dress, gloves, sash and all can be tubbed to perfection is certainly a persuasive argument in favor of this winsome costume.

The revival of exquisitely fine embroidered batiste is a matter of rejoicing. Important days and events deserve a "best" dress, and here you see it shown to the left in the above group. The eyelet em-

For Cycling

This cycling costume conforms with priority rulings. Blue denim goes into the pinafore-topped culottes. The divided skirt features the new above-the-knee length. Handy hip pockets with brown disk buttons of wood are smart details. The blouse of printed calico looks as if it might have been fashioned from Aunt Jemima's red bandana handkerchiefs. Red shoes, blue socks, a natural straw hat and a postman handbag complete this costume.

Show Novel Styles For At-Home Wear

Leading stores are giving much attention to apparel for at-home entertaining. This is being done in recognition of the fact that there will be considerably fewer long-distance motor trips being taken this season due to gas restrictions and tire conditions. There will be more garden parties and barbecue parties which will take on delightful informality. Contrasted with them will be the more important dinner-in-the-garden affairs.

For the latter, lovely no-toss gowns are being shown styled of rayon satins, gorgeous prints and many beautiful sheers in pastel tones. For the more informal parties, novel and amusing dresses are to be found, some charming with a rustic beauty, others of utterly utilitarian gingham or calico or gaily flowered chintz. Among the most popular of these dresses are apron dresses, slacks outfits and simple shirtwaist types, with emphasis on giddily colored dirndls for the younger set.

Flowers Drip Gaily From The Sides of Your Head

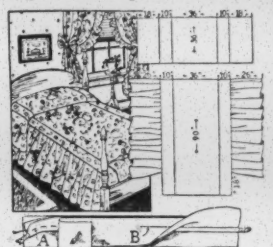

If you have been keeping up with new trends in flower trims and hats, you will have discovered that designers are handling them in new and unique ways. The graceful pendant flower trims are charming and ever so flattering. The flattery about them lies in the way the flowers are placed so as to trail down at one side. In some instances they fall pendant over each ear. Usually this method calls for graceful long stems. Sometimes the hat is a mere bandeau with flowers attached. The fashion is also carried to big brims. In that case the flowers trail from underneath the brim in artistic positioning.

NEW IDEAS for Home-makers

By RUTH WYETH SPEARS

EVERY kind of cotton goods from dainty chintz to bold plaid gingham is being used for bedspreads. Most of these materials are about 36 inches wide and you will need 11 1/2 yards for a bed 54 inches wide. See diagrams for cutting dimensions.

Cut the center portions first; then the 18-inch side sections for the pillow cover; then the 10-inch strips for the pillow cover and spread. This leaves a 26-inch-wide strip for the side ruffles of the spread. If you make your own seam welting, cover cord with bias strips basted, as at A, and stitched with the cording foot, as at B.

NOTE: This bedspread is from BOOK 1 of the series of booklets which Mrs. Spears has prepared for our readers. This book also gives step-by-step directions for making slip covers, dressing table skirts and 12 different styles of curtains including a simple rising for draw curtains.
